

Sorrow and Tomorrow

Die schönsten Volkslieder

Ria den Oudsten

Heinrich Heine

Why is there no sweet with-out sor - row no rhyme or rea - ea - son why. the 7

mu - sic we ha - ave to fol - low the si - ren of Lo - re - lei. The sto - ry of drown - ing and 12

sor - row. No rhyme no rea - son no cry. We on - ly can hea - ear the si - ing - ing of 17

si - ren Lo - o - re - lei. Why is there no sweet with - out sor - row, no rhyme or rea - a - son why. The pi - per we ha - ave to fol - low the mu - sic of Lo - re -

21

26
lei. The tra - ge - dy ends the ship sink - ing with - out a si - in - gle cry. One

31
on - ly could hea - ear the sing - ing - ing of si - ren Lo - o - re - lei. Why

35
is there no sweet with - out sor - row no rhyme or rea - ea - son why. the 40

mu - sic we ha - ave to fol - low the si - ren of Lo - re - lei. The sto - ry of drown - ing and sor - row. No rhyme no rea - son no cry. We on - ly can hea - ear the si - ing - ing of si - ren Lo - o - re - lei. Why 52  is there no sweet with-out sor - row, no rhyme or rea-a-son why. To - mor-row, to-mor-row, to -

46

57  mor - row, there's al - ways a ne-ew day. To tra - vel the dan-ge-rous wa - ters of life and Lo-o-re-

63  lei. Why is there a tide in our for - tune, why are we blind when we're young. We're

69  loo - king for love, luck and for - tune, but find - ing fate in a song. The ri - ver has dan-ger-ous

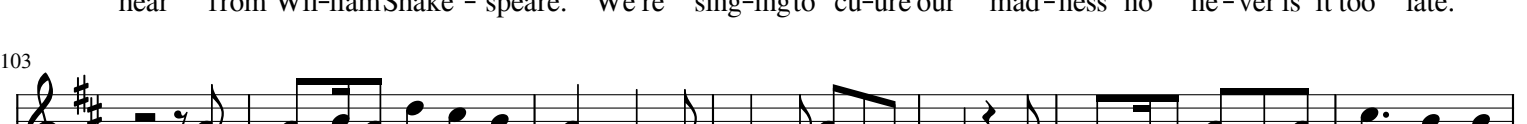

74  cur - rents, and sud - den - ly there's a cry. The sto - ry of drowning and so - orrow of sing - ing Lo-o-re-

80  lei. The mu - sic of swe - et and sor - row, the food of love for the soul. The 87  mu - sic of swe - et and sor - row the cure of heart and soul. Oh, par - ting is such swe - et sor - row. Hear,

93  hear from Wil - liam Shake - speare. His wo - ords of wis - dom we bo - or - row. Hear, 97  hear from Wil - liam Shake - speare. We're sing - ing to cu - re our mad - ness no ne - ver is it too late.

103  we're sing - ing to cu - re our sad - ness no ne - ver is it too late. The sto - ry of sweet and sor - row, the 110  food of love for the soul. A so - ong of swe - et and so - orrow, the cure for he - art and soul.